7. The FRP is implemented through regional supplements developed by DHS and other Federal agency regional offices describing specific actions, operating locations, and relationships to address the unique needs of the region and States within the region. From time to time, an operations supplement to the FRP may be issued to address special events that merit advanced planning, such as the Olympics or Presidential inaugurations.
8. The FRP is further implemented through various operations manuals, field operations guides, and job aids that detail specific agency actions to be taken.
9. States, along with their local jurisdictions, have their own emergency operations plans describing who will do what, when, and with what resources. In addition, many voluntary, private, and international organizations have emergency or contingency plans. These planning relationships are shown in Figure 2.
