

Appendix A

Panel Charter

The mission of the Materials Panel is to identify key materials technologies that will have a profound impact on Air Force operations and systems into the first several decades of the 21st century. The panel will focus on identifying and quantifying the payoff to the Air Force in terms of advanced capabilities, reliability, supportability, disposability, and affordability of future Air Force Systems.