Open with silence, image of the clear daytime sky, soft clouds, looking horizontally;

Camera rotates toward a football stadium; sky is still the majority of what is display on screen with top of stadium occupying the bottom.

As the stadium comes into view a 4-ship fighters fly directly overhead. 4-ship of 5th generation fighters fly off into the open unimpeded bright blue sky.

Fighters disappear off the screen.

Slow soft breeze heard as image of clear sky is presented.

Soft singing of the end of the National Anthem begins:

...or' the land of the free and the home of the brave.

As the singer concludes her song, add in the growing sound of the engine roar of fighter planes.

Add the sound of drums thumping and crowd cheering.

At the height of the cheering the sound of the 4-ship of fighters scream overhead as they enter and exit the screen.

After narrator's line is finished, the J-20 with visible Chinese lettering/colors is in trail of F-35.

J-20 begins to catch up and nearly pass the F-35 as the screen fades to graphs and headlines of Chinese and Russian military spending cover the screen in a chaotic manner.

At the height of the chaos the scene transitions to static and the image of General Welsh during his Fox news interview appears (still shown underneath the television static.

As the words are said the text appears on the screen "the gap...is closing"
